

ENGLISH POWERLIFTING ASSOCIATION

CHAIRMAN'S REPORT FOR 2021

Well, it was great to be able to get competitions going again, post pandemic, the middle of 2021. Clearly things will take a while to return to normality, but the signs are good as we are already at the same membership levels as last year.

I am very grateful to Adam Reilly for taking over the reigns of EPA finances, he's doing an excellent job.

Most divisions have held several local competitions, but some have been unable to cover all age groups and this has made it difficult for some lifters to get their required British qualifying totals.

We have a full programme of championships arranged so we look forward to a successful year. However, there remains some uncertainty regarding the Commonwealth championships. They are still planned for New Zealand this December, but their COVID restrictions may mean shifting to a different country. The CPF will make a decision on this in April.

My best wishes to everyone in the EPA for 2022.
